VINEYARDS & VITICULTURE

This exceptional vineyard, located on a former forest and overlooking a former wild wooded area, offers magnificent biodiversity, where flora and fauna meet and enrich this exceptional terroir. Planted in the 1970s, Les Garennes is distinguished by its limestone soil dating from the Jurassic Oxfordian era. East/southeast exposure.

HARVEST & VINIFICATION

After pneumatic pressing and gentle racking at a low temperature, the wine ferments in stainless steel tanks. Native yeast. The wine is then matured on the fine lees for nine months until bottling. No malolactic fermentation.
